VOCATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

CBYX/PPP

Congress-Bundestag Youth Exchange
Parlamentarisches Patenschafts-Programm

Conceived by members of the United States Congress and the German Bundestag in 1983, the Congress-Bundestag Youth Exchange is a full scholarship program designed to strengthen ties between the successor generations of each country. The friendships developed through this special program will deepen each participant's understanding of the commonalities and differences in German and American social, economic, and political institutions. The program provides an opportunity for the exchange students, our future leaders, to expand their perspectives and awareness of each other's culture, society, history and politics. At the same time, it enables German and American families to extend their friendships across international boundaries and relate to one another as members of the same world community.

The Congress-Bundestag Youth Exchange Program (CBYX) is sponsored by the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs and is jointly supported and funded by the United States Congress and the German Bundestag. Three distinct CBYX programs provide unique intercultural educational opportunities for American and German youth, ages 15-24:

- CBYX High School (ages 15-18.5)
- CBYX Vocational (high school grads, ages 18-19)
- CBYX Young Professionals (ages 18.5-24)

More information about all three CBYX scholarships can be found online at exchanges.state.gov/CBYX.

THE CONGRESS-BUNDESTAG YOUTH EXCHANGE VOCATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP

For the upcoming school year, the Congress-Bundestag Vocational scholarship is being offered to 25 graduating U.S. high school seniors with a vocational background or interest. This gap-year program in Germany is administered by Nacel Open Door.

CBYX VOCATIONAL PROGRAM SUMMARY

13th Year Abroad for U.S. High School Graduates with a Vocational Background or Interest

The Congress-Bundestag Youth Exchange Vocational Program offers graduating high school seniors with vocational interests the opportunity to spend their 13th year abroad, learning German, attending a high school or training school program, and gaining work experience through internships with German companies, all while living with a German host family.

It is important to emphasize at the outset that this is a young adult program which seeks to enroll students who have demonstrated maturity and responsibility and who can be entrusted to fulfill their roles as exchange students without day-to-day supervision.

1. All students will receive two months of intensive language preparation following their arrival in Germany before being assigned to their permanent host family and school. The family and school experience is meant to ensure their integration into German society, more fully prepare them to communicate in German, offer them opportunities to meet other young people their age, and prepare them for internships, wherever possible.
2. Together with the assistance of Nacel Open Door's partner in Germany, students play a large role in finding internships within their field of interest or related to their field of interest. While work experience within their preferred career field is ideal, it is not always possible. Students should fully understand that their "international experience" is the important and essential element in the exchange, rather than specific training in their given fields of interest.
3. A modest stipend will be provided to help offset students' personal expenses, but students are required to bring sufficient spending money. Students should notify Nacel Open Door if financial assistance is needed.
4. Students will provide their own domestic round trip transportation from their home to Washington D.C.
